Few sires have generated the kind of influence and demand as Kings Landing. Recognized for his ability to consistently transmit phenotype, structural integrity and marketability, he has become a go-to sire for progressive programs looking to elevate both the look and value of their cattle. His ability to sire cattle that are both competitive in the show ring and valuable in production has made him a staple in many leading programs. Semen on Kings Landing remains in high demand and limited in availability, making this offering a unique opportunity to access one of the breed's most proven and influential sires.
